A meeting of the Cotton Exchange was held this evening and representatives of the Norfolk and Western and Seaboard and Roanoke and Norfolk and Carolina railroads appeared before the body and submitted plans for the organization of a stock company to erect large piers, compresses and cotton sheds for the handling of the cotton trade of this port. The Norfolk and Western advocated locating the piant and Western advocated locating the plant near Lambert's Foint, the other roads near Pinner's Point on the Portsmouth side. The exchange selected the Pinner's Point location, and appointed a committee to raise $100,000 for a stock company. $300,000 will be subscribed by the railroad. This is a victory for the Pertsmouth people and the Seaboard and Roanoke.

A notorious colored individual, Thomas Randolph by name, who has frequently been imprisoned for various violations of the law, created something of a sensation a few days ago by appearing on the streets arrayed in the regulation police summer uniform—gray cost pants and white vest and brass buttons. Randolph bought the uniform from a discharged policeman. The city ordinance requires policemen to buy their uniforms from their own cash, and then provides that no citizen shall wear clothes like the police uniform. Under this latter clause of the ordinance Randolph was arrested and fined, and, according to the city law, will have to be fined every day he wears the gray smit. Ashland, Va., April 20.—[Special.]—The Democratic county committee met to-day in the clerks office for the purpose of making arrangements for electing delegates to the State convention. I saw Chairman Scott after the meeting and he told me that the unanimous opinion of the committee was that primary meetings should be held at all the polling places to select the delegates and that a resolution to that effect was passed.

The second week in May was determined upon as the time for holding these meetings, and a circular will be issued this week. Every member of the committee was present. There seemed to be a very general opinion that it was best for the party to send an uninstructed delegation of nineteen men and let them vote to send delegates to the National Convention. Hon, Richard H. Cerdwell, on behalf of those assembled, offered the following resolutions, which were read and passed by a unanimous vote:

Whereas, the people of this county have heard with deep regret of the sudden death of Colonel William Nelson, which occurred on the 17th instant, and desiring to testify to the high esteem in which he for a long and useful life of nearly eighty-four years, was held by the citizens of this, his native county, do at a public meeting held at the court-house April 20, 1892.

Resolved, 1st. That in the death of Colonel William Nelson the county loses an honored and honorable citizen, one who in peace and in war gave abundant evidence of his loyalty and devotion to his State and county, and whose integrity and uprightness was observed and known of all who came in contact with him.
